TIERRA DEL FUEGO EXPEDITION.

This most important expedition to the extremities of our Southern frontier is to start on next Saturday, and will be composed of the gunboat Paraná, the transport Villarino and the brig María. The Cabo de Hornos, which, we believe, is at present at Bahia Blanca, will, we understand, also join the other vessels, and on her return will enter San Blas, being too large to cross the Bar of the Rio Negro.

We cannot but praise the efforts of the Government in getting up this expedition, since it is a lasting slur on previous Administrations that the South Coast of this Republic has been so long and so systematically neglected. Argentines are unaware of the rich resources they hold in the distant South country, and we verily believe so lazy have we all become by the rich prosperity of our Pampa plains, that but for the grasping pretensions of the Chilians, and the pronounced anxiety of some wealthy Falkland Islanders to establish with their flocks and herds on the main land in front of their inhospitable island, another quarter of a century would be allowed to pass away without sending a ship with the Argentine flag to the South.

Even now, with the railway open to Bahia Blanca, there is not a man in Buenos Ayres with the brains and enterprise to see that the legitimate terminus of our railway system from Buenos Ayres is not Bahia Blanca, but Patagones. When the railway runs through from Buenos Ayres to the Rio Negro, Argentines will have a chance to discover what a noble country they possess in the South.

The Valley of the Rio Negro is by far one of the richest districts in the whole of the River Plate. The natural trade of that valley, coupled with the trade which the troops spread along that frontier line create, and the rising trade of Viedma, the residence of the National authorities, all give an importance to Patagones which Bahia Blanca has not, and never will have.

Further South of Patagones is Chupat, a colony that has ceased to be problematical; and from Chupat to Port Deseado and Santa Cruz, and from thence to the Straits of Magellan, the whole country is a species of no man's land, which has yet to be peopled, settled and stocked.

The expedition now to start is for a still further point South, and will visit points on the coast South of the Straits of Magellan, and down to that Straits the passengers have Pole erritory called Tierra del Fuego. The vessels take a number of convicts, men and women, from our Penitentiary to form a kind of colony down there; and mechanics of all classes, from the workshops of the Penitentiary, are brigaded for the expedition. The gunboats leave here laden with provisions of all kinds, coal and other supplies, and will return with full cargoes of timber.

The Isla de Estados—or, as we call it, Staten Island—is known to abound in rich slate quarries, and workmen for those quarries are also taken down. The late Captain Piedra Buena, who knew that island, informed the Government that there are slates enough there to roof every house in the Republic.

The Villarino will, on landing the expedition on Staten Island, come back to Buenos Ayres with all the news; and will, we hear, be put permanently on that route between this port and Staten Island. We believe this expedition is pregnant with much good, and we praise the President and his Minister of War for so employing the gunboats, etc., instead of allowing them to be idle here in port, demoralizing the officers and crews, and all under the shallow pretext of saving coal.

The Almirante Brown should be of this expedition. Far better to have her running up and down our coast and training her young officers and crew into experienced seamen, than to have her rotting away in the placid bay of Montevideo.

The South has been too long neglected; and we are happy to see that President Roca's Government has turned over a new leaf. We want, however, a railway from Bahia Blanca to Patagones, and we hope to see the concession for so useful and necessary a line granted this year.

NEW TRAMWAY SCHEME.

Tramways, Tramways, thy very name is Buenos Aires. In no other part of the Globe is there a greater tramway traffic, or a more extended tramway service than in this city. Yet with all our trams, bells on our horses, and horns sounding at every street corner, our tramway service fails to meet the greatest of all wants in this city, namely a tramway vasura service. For 2½ years we persistently labored in the Municipality to reform the present vasura service, but owing to influences not necessary here to discuss, all our efforts proved useless, the interests in the present wretched system being too strong to be disturbed.

Manuel de la Serna & Co. now come before the Lord Mayor with a vast tramway vasura scheme, which will meet the want long felt, and if carried out will rid the town of those most offensive of all nuisances, the vasura carts. It is difficult to say why the existing tramway companies have never thought proper to bid for this service, since in Montevideo the tramways carry the vasura to the outkirts. We suppose that the passenger traffic of the town is so great that they are unable to meet any more.

To the Rt. Honble The Lord Mayor.

Your Lordship.

The undersigned, impelled by considerations of founding in this municipium an important enterprise for a better system of transit, to meet the imperious and ever increasing demands of traffic, industry and public health, which in every sense such a system if perfect would, and the movement at present being entirely confined to a passenger service, come before your Lordship with a project contained in the following articles, for which they crave an attentive perusal.

Art. 1. The promoters undertake to construct within a term of three years counting from the day on which this proposal is accepted by you, a network of tramways with double line, and on principles the most combined and perfect, throughout the extent of this municipality; the conditions to be as follows:—

1. The lines will be parallel and run throughout the municipium in its entire extent, for the purpose of affording facilities in the conveyance of merchandize, manufactures, and any raw material pertaining alike to commerce or industries. It affords also despatch in the removal of incumbrances, such as the debris of houses etc. and in the carriage of building materials for houses or moles where stone and iron are required, besides being of the utmost use when large boilers and other heavy industrial apparata are in question.

2. The company will promote dispatch and economy in the cleaning of the city, providing the elements most necessary for its' better cleanliness and publichealth.

3. The company will provide for passengers swift, elegantly built coaches of two classes, 1st and 2nd; the price of the 2nd class being one half that of the 1st, which will be arranged with the Lord Mayor.

4. The company will lay before the Lord Mayor all the plans and models of the waggons to be placed on public service, for his approbation and advice.

5. The company will undertake the city cleansing for 30 o/o less than the sum now paid by the honorable Corporation.

6 The lines in general will have a siding curve in the centre of every square, and curves in different directions, so that the waggons may not interupt the traffic on the trunk lines.

7. The double lines or ways to constitute the plan will occupy a breadth equal to that occupied by the passenger lines at present working in this city; that is to say, each single way or line will occupy, in its entire extent, half of the breadth actually taken by

8. Between ways there will be a vacant space of 35 centimetres.

9. The cars will be drawn by two, three, or four horses, at a slow pace, and in case of passengers not faster than a trot.

10. The company will have a right to the traffic indicated in perpetuity, or on the same conditions as the other tramways of the city.

11. The company binds itself to begin the work of laying down the lines within a year from the approval of the clauses contained in this proposal.

12. Models of the different carriages or waggons to be used by the company will be opportunely presented, as exacted by your Lordship, and submitted to your judgment for the approval of the conditions.

13. The company will establish stations in the public plazas and most suitable places, taking advantage for the purpose of the general rights o the Expropriation Law, but all in conformity with your Lordship's views.

14. In view of the importance of this great enterprise, that will endow the Capital of the Republic with some of the most perfect conditions of transit possible, and that will lead wealth and riches to the remotest parts of the city, tending thus to form a species of equilibrium, giving a new relative value to all lands within Municipal bounds, holding out most advantageous prospects for activity and industry, offering an economy to the commercial interests of this city hitherto unknown, offering an easy approach to the Government offices, public buildings, etc., and arranging for the cleansing of the city on the most advantageous conditions.

The undersigned appear before your Lordship with a conviction that such a right to public traffic as that solicited in the articles above expressed and in the manner above indicated will be granted; once effected and set going, such rights are to be guaranteed as long as suits the company, or as long as the company can carry it on, and all assistance with regard to the legal and practical measures necessary for the execution of this kind within the Municipium.

Therefore I ask your Lordship to consider me in possession of a preferential right by virtue of having presented this project which I beg may be considered and approved of as soon as possible and for ends shown.

It is justice.

Manuel de la Serna y Cia.

THE CHARMING SOUTH.

IV.

On the 23rd we left Currumalan with rather gloomy prospects, as the mode of conveyance to Bahia Blanca was not very promising at the time. The officials of the line shew some rigidity in granting leave to travel in the cargo trains; we reckoned on a steam-engine to Alfalfa Station; on a truck with sail thence to Sauce Chico, and on another engine thence to Bahia Blanca; but as the departure of locomotives is fixed according to the necessities of the extension works, no limit of time could be fixed for the journey to the embryonic Liverpool of the South. Under the most favorable circumstances we expected to get there in five days. But events fell out otherwise, and we were fortunate enough to fall in with a special train in Currumalan Station. Messrs. J. J. Crawley, traffic manager of the line, J. Allen, telegraph manager, Waghorn, accountant of the railway, Tebbut, Adrogué, Justice of Peace of Adrogué, and Lightholler of Bahia Blanca, were in a special carriage. Messrs. Crawley and Allen kindly invited us to step into the waggon, whilst Mr Adrogué J. P. served tea, and off we started for Bahia Blanca.

The heavy works of the Bahia Blanca extension begin at Arroyo Corto, the third station on the Currumalan property; as we stated before, the line describes an immense curve leaving La Gama, in order to turn the Currumalan mountain range and enter at the spur of the range; the cuttings through the hills, nevertheless, from Currumalan to Alfalfa Station are pretty heavy and the earthworks are large, but the great difficulties of the line begin at the Sauce Chico, about twenty leagues further on. We arrived at Alfalfa station, on the Southern side of the Currumalan range, at mid-day after very quick steaming. Alfalfa is the head quarters of Mr E. Ware C.E., of the Southern Railway Company. A splendid wooden house has been erected in this beautiful spot for the engineers of this part of the extension; the mountains are only two leagues from the house, and the panorama is splendid. The line from Currumalan to Alfalfa is nearly completed; a large gang of navvies is still working under the superintendence of Mr Fitz-Gerald at Pigué, completing the embankments and ballasting the line. The stations are going up rapidly and will be finished at the end of next month. The station in Alfalfa was put up in a fort night, and the carpenter work will be completed in another; this shews the feverish activity with which the works are being pushed ahead. All these works have a finish and British solidity about them that reflect high credit on the constructors and engineers.

The company's wooden house is a gem, and all those who do not believe in wooden houses should see this place to become convinced of the comfort and style that can be combined in a wooden structure. Nothing could be cooler, and as far as solidity goes it has resisted the whirlwinds of this part of the South. Here we found Messrs. Muggeridge, F. Norgues, Stokes, and Tezos, and several hundred navvies and workmen hard at work in the station, engine depot, and at the permanent way. The place is a beehive of industry, and one meets with Italians all around. We passed the night at Alfalfa, as the engine from Bahia Blanca had not arrived. Messrs Tebbut and Tezos very nearly lost their lives, effecting the passage of the Chapaleofu; the carriage wheeled over and the occupants were in imminent danger of being dashed in pieces along the cliffs, or being drowned in the foaming waters of the rivulet: Mr. Tezos was shot ahead beyond the horses, whilst Mr Tebbut was thrown out head first in the midst of an avalanche of tinned preserves, guns, cartridges and wild ducks, cuttinghis face and spraining his wrist. The carriage was smashed, but the driver, who was drunk, escaped miraculously.

The camps about Alfalfa are good, but they lack the exuberant features of the other side of the Currumalan; there is a marked change in the camp, the "tosca" is only near the ground, grass begins to shoot up in tufts at intercals, and the plain is less green and bleak in general. These are the famous camps of the XIXth Section; at this point they may be considered good, but further on they are wretched, at least along the railway line. Game abounds in the vicinity, "rodeos" of deer fly scared by the whistle of the locomotive, whilst hares are leaping in all directions: ostriches are numerous. Two hares have been domesticated at Alfalfa; in order to tame these hares it is necessary to cut them out of the mother's womb before they see the light of day; otherwise the task is impossible; even when taken a few seconds old only they resist all attempts, and die. These hares look like young kangaroos; when young they are delicious when well seasoned. The hare soup is good as at home. There are "guanacos" in the mountains, but their numbers are decreasing every day and very few are seen since the railway has been started. Pumas abound and make much havoc in the flocks. All this part of the land, up to the town of Sandes, seven leagues distant, abounds with game of all sizes and species; the sportsman has a splendid time of it here.

THE LIEBEG EXTRACT OF MEAT FACTORY.

(Concluded.)

The corrales and method of killing are more or less the same as at all saladeros, with one exception, that instead of horses to drag up the animals to be slaughtered, Mr. Croker has invented a cylinder, which he calls the "Caballo Ingles," driven by steam-power, which does the work much better and more expeditously.

After the animal is dragged to the trolly it is "desnucado," then taken to the skinning platform, skinned, cut up and bones completely denuded of flesh. The bones, &c., are then whegled into large vats, where the grease is extracted, after which process the refuse is taken out of the vats and put out to dry for guano. Some of the bones are set apart—those are used for making knife-handles, &c.

The beef goes into large, square, open vats, where it is boiled to "rags," it is then taken out pressed and dried on large platforms laid with "baldozas," where men with large wooden rakes keep turning it over until dry, when it is baled for pig's meat or manure.

After the meat is taken out of the pot the soup, as we will now call it, is allowed to run out into coolers, where the fat, rising to the surface, is taken out; the soup then passes through several pipes and retorts, being heated with steam all the time, and, finally, passes into what we shall call evaporizers, where it acquires a sort of consistency. The process is such a peculiar one, for herein lies Baron Liebeg's invention, that not having a knowlenge of chemistry, I find it impossible to give the technical names of each phase of said process.

To the left of this department we see, first, the grease factory, which is connected with the killing-ground (as are all the others also.) Here we see the mouths of a great number of vats, where the bones, grease, &c., is put, and is taken off the ground in huge barrows, and, steam being put on, the grease passes through a refining process, the purest drawn off into tins or barrels, and the inferior into pipes for soap-making purposes, &c. The last goes principally to Valparaiso, the other commands an easy sale in Europe, and is in great demand at present.

The refuse of the vats, after being dried, is mixed with the dried blood and ground in large mills, is bagged and shipped as guano. This is a large department, and is now one of the most important connected with the industry.

Next to the grease we find the hide-curing galpon. This is also a very large one, and connected, as all are, with the pier, for shipping, by trucks on rails, all the produce of the factory.

After the hides are taken off they are cleaned of any pieces of meat that may have remained on them, then the useless pieces are cut off (these are used for making glue); then they are thrown into vats full of brine, where they are allowed to remain a short time, after which they are taken out and arranged in heaps, with layers of salt between each. In this shed there were 24,000 hides piled up, and a ship was in the harbour ready to take them on board, and which she was to commence doing the day after I left. A ship was loading guano the day I was there.

Adjoining the skin-shed there is another, the bone and refuse deposit—a very large one. Alongside the killing-ground, further to the left, looking from the entrance, is the jerked meat shed. Here large piles of salted beef are to be seen, where, after lying a certain number of days to be cured, it is put on palisades to dry, a large area of land being used for this purpose; for, as well as Extract of Meat, they have here this industry also, and a lucrative one it must be still, seeing that most of the saladeros in the Plate still continue utilizing the beef in this manner.

Again, to the right of the Extract of Meat department are to be seen the boilers and engines of the large guano-preparing shed (which looks like a huge flour mill.) The tongue-curing and canning-house, the immense water deposit and pump-room, the large deposit of coal, and innumerable other places where different industries are carried on, and which it is impossible to describe by such a short visit as mine.

The management of such a place as this is truly wonderful. The cleanliness observed throughout, and the clock-like manner in which the whole work is carried on, reflects great credit on the manager and the managers of the different departments under him.

No doubt, a great deal of what we see has been planned and laid out by the late manager, Mr. Ghelbert, whose industry must have been untiring; still the energy displayed by Mr. Croker, in carrying out his predecessor's ideas, to the satisfaction of the pockets of the company, is well worthy of praise.

The manager resides in a good substantial house, built in very good taste, and very prettily situated, overlooking the river Uruguay, and the Entre Rios side of it as well. The centre of the house consists of a beautiful room built in the Pompeiain style, with very tastefully oil-painted walls. From this room branch off all the others; drawing, dining-rooms, &c., all most commodious and neat, but not gaudy.

The house looks more like a suburban villa than a town house. It is surrounded with terraced gardens, and pretty walks down to the river, where it terminates in a drive which goes all along the river edge. Innumerable varieties of trees, both fruit and others, fill the gardens, and, what fixed my attention most, was a beautiful grove of bananas, growing in the greatest luxuriance. What with fountains, aviaries, flowers, &c., the whole place is quite as lovely a residence as any English nobleman could desire.

The whole of the factory, streets, dwelling-house, &c., is lighted up with gas, manufactured at the company's gas works, which are situated in a small valley, not far from the killing place.

I forgot to mention that over 600 men are employed on the premises. This, itself, shows the gigantic concern that I have but meagerly endeavoured to describe.

After lunch, Mr. Croker's son was kind enough to invite me to take a ride into the camp to inspect the troops of cattle as they came in, and I was frirly surprised at the beauty of the land around Fray Bentos and their uniform quality of goodness. Camps both good for sheep and cattle.

The troops of cattle that I saw coming in to be killed at the Factory, would make a Buenos Aireau butcher's teeth water to see them. One troop especially drew my attention, it was composed principally of very large "novillos," some of them ever eight or ten years old; they were from the department of Salto, near the frontier of Brazil.

Having seen the cattle, we returned by another road that led us through the town of Fray Bentos, a pretty little place, and very clean, containing some very good houses, quite as good as are to be seen in Buenos Aires or Montevideo. I also noticed some very large stores and well stocked. The streets are lighted up during the night. There is a long pier into the river, with seats here and there throughout its whole length.

Outside the town there is a beautiful quinta, belonging to the late Mr. Young, and where his widow now resides, quite equal to any around B. Aires.

We arrived at the house just in time for dinner. I, for one, did, I hope, full justice We had just finished, when the little steamer belonging to the factory whistled. This was a signal to tell us the "Rio de la Plata" was coming into the harbour of Fray Bentos. After bidding adieu to the ladies, we walked down to the company's pier, and getting on board the little steamer were in a few minutes taken alongside the "Rio de la Plata," Mr. Croker and his son accompanying us to the ship's side. We separated with regret, on my part at least, and with a promise to renew my visit at no very distant date.

Yours, &c.,

A. D.

LONDON LETTER.

(Our own Correspondent.)

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

Feb. 1st, 1884.

The following paragraph, to which similar ones appear occasionally in the newspapers, may or may not have anything to do with the general outlook abroad; but perhaps it has:—

"In consequence of instructions received from the Admiralty a large number of additional hands have been entered at Chatam Dockyard, the authorities being desirous of completing the armour-plated vessels now in course of construction. Extraordinary activity prevails in all departments, and many men are working overtime daily. The number of those employed is now greatly in excess of that usual in time of peace."

Both the French and ourselves are getting deeper and deeper into what has been called an "Imperial Policy"—a policy of the sword, which at different periods has been employed effectively in the "opening up of new markets for commerce," "the spread of the gospel," "the abolition of the slave trade," and for protecting India or in diverting public attention from grievances nearer home. So long as the cause of commerce or the gospel or inferior races could be furthered by beating the head of one nigger against another's, the glory obtained was cheap. But we are getting thick on the earth, and European swords cross and Remingtons meet in unexpected places, and where we hope to find the palm and cocoa-nut in pristine simplicity, we come across a newly planted flag staff bearing stars and stripes or tri-colours, or spread and split eagles. The conduct of French officials in out-of-the-way regions is most aggressive. At any moment we may hear of some new outrage on Englishmen in the Gaboon, or in Tamatave, or in China or on the Congo. For the rest, everything is at the moment hopeful, as far as France and England are concerned, for we seem to be sufficiently engaged in Egypt, and France has enough on her hands in China. Only this morning the Daily Telegraph announced that the French had been defeated before Bac-Ninh with severe loss, and that the dispatch had been suppressed by the French Government. The Minister of Marine has, however, contradicted the rumour, and states that all the dispatches from Tonquin are published as soon as received; and that amongst others was the dispatch announcing that a reconnaissance had been made in the direction of Bac-Ninh resulting in a slight loss to the French.

This may be so; but news from Tonquin is very slack, and the French in regard to our position in Egypt are ominously quiet. This may be partly attributed to the state of affairs in Paris, where trade is bad, and operatives are clamouring for work. In regard to Egypt, the power which might seem to be the least interested in that country is the most active in watching and in encouraging the English policy. At Berlin it would suit them to have Egypt virtually annexed to Great Britain, on the supposition or condition that we for the future will take a less lively interest in the affairs of Turkey, and will not be indisposed to see an Austrian Arsenal at Salonica. In regard to the actual events in Egypt we are at this moment in a state of painful suspense. On the one hand is the omnipotent General Gordon, just starting from Assouan on his way to Khartoum, and about to cross the desert with—they say—£40,000 in his gladstone, which, as the fact has been duly published in Egypt, may attract the attention of some of his old friends—and on the other hand is Baker Pasha with a motley crew of 3,000 and odd Nubians, Turks and Egyptians about to advance to relieve Tokar and eventually Sinkat, with Osman Digna, the Arab Sheik in his front, with 20,000 men. One must have great faith in Baker's luck and Gordon's influence not to feel a little uneasy. General Gordon, you will remember, took with him a young lad supposed to be the hereditary Sultan of Darfour. It now appears he has got the wrong man. The real Sultan, a respectable man of over thirty and with only two wives and a resonable family, is still at Cairo, whilst the man Gordon has taken is a disreputable youngster of eighteen with 42 wives, innumerable children, and has been dead drunk from the time he left that city. Besides he is not the Sultan at all. That is, however, only a funny episode in the horrid mess, which we can only hope will look better within the next few days; otherwise it will be a case of dispatching an Anglo-Indian army to Souakim; and it will be no Tel-el-Kebir business this time, but a long affair pregnant with important results in Europe itself. Sir Eveyln Wood is said to confirm the report that the "European General" in the Mahdi's army is no less a person than a German servant of one of the officers on Hicks-Pasha's staff. At the battle of Koshgi the man deserted to the enemy and was immediately made General.

Affairs in South Africa are also queer. Our protegé Cetewayo escaped from Ekowe. He was pursued and brought back. He seems to have occupied his time in inciting his friends the Usutus to attack Usibepu which they did, and got nearly all slaughtered for their pains. John Dunn too seems dissatisfied with the British arrangements in connection with the Reserved Territory, and wants his chiefs to migrate with him further north. The chiefs do not see it at present. Then our friends the Boers or some of their land grabbers, hearing that Lord Derby had made certain settlements of territory affecting Dutch squatters on the lands of Maukoroane, have made arrangements to attack and overthrow the Bechuana Chief with a view to making Lord Derby's settlement impossible. Moreover, Lord Derby has unwittingly raised a white elephant in Australia. The colonists have taken him at his word, and have at once made serious and formal arrangements for the formation of an Australasian Confederation, to include Fiji and eventually, no doubt, the New Hebrides and most of the islands in the Pacific as well as New Guinea. When that is done—and they are very quick in their movements out there—they will say "My lord, here we are." I leave you to think over Lord Derby's possible answer. The fact is, my dear Standard, the colonists and the Americans are in these days brought so near to our very shores, that our old easy-going statesmen are quite out of place under the invasion of younger and more energetic ideas. I commenced this letter with a sort of stereotyped paragraph about "activity at the dockyards." That activity has been going on in the French dockyards for the last six years, whilst Mr. Gladstone has been felling trees and reading Lessons. Even the old Radicalism is quite out of date. This "Great Britain" and federation business as well as more liberal expenditure, or at least more active and profitable expenditure in the national defences, are doctrines of the new radicalism as preached long since by Sir Charles Dilke; and even of the socialists and preached by men such as Hyndman. Whilst Prince Bismarck is calculating all chances, however remote like a Moltke in a time of peace, our men think only of the question in hand, and of the next session or of this Session of Parliament. It is sad to admit the fact, but in these days of prompt attack from friend or foe, for we know not which is our friend, party Government on the old English lines is a mistake. Mr. Hyndman recommended long since a permanent committee on Foreign Affairs and National Defences, and he is right.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent).

Feb. 23d.

In one of the leading thoroughfares of the city, a railway official, on arriving home, found his wife tied hand and foot, gagged, and lying on the floor—just as the robbers had left her—at five p.m., after carrying off the family linen, the mantle piece clock, money and spoons.

A Paris jury has just sentenced a batch of promoters of swindling companies to several years imprisonment, and which will contribute to the purification of the financial atmosphere. A member of the Jockey Club having lost his fortune at play, blew out his brains; the report was then spread he died from "natural" causes, perfectly correct. A cabby has been sent to prison for three months, for attempting to "tan the skin" of his fare, who refused to pay 900 per cent above the legal tariff.

M. Marcel Deprez has delivered a very interesting lecture at the Sorbonne, on the employment of electricity as motive power. Indeed his name is prominently identified with the idea. He exhibited a very respectable Nasmyth hammer, worked by electricity, that cracks nuts as well as bends huge bars of iron. In a few weeks he intends to be able to supply Paris with electricity, as others do with water and gas, from a factory in course of construction, at Creil, 33 miles from Paris.

Fair-play Frenchmen even are pleased at the nomination of Chinese Gordon for the Soudan; better late than never; the French would have no objection to join in the work of "dual" pacification; perhaps they are less hot about Egypt, as they conclude they have a superior "Bonanza" in the future, with the Celestial Empire.

While De Brazza, like the princes of the earth, is going to and fro on the Congo, the Madagascar question is likely to enter upon a new phase. Périgord is not only the land of truffles and Gascons, it is the nursery ground also of Kings. The Anthon family claims to have given Deys to Algiers; a Talleyrand had a hair-breadth escape from being elected King of Poland; the attorney, de Tonnens died—in exile, Orelie I. of Patagonia. At present another native one, Bonnet, of Malagasy extraction claims th crown of Madagascar. by right of descent.

Wax-works do not pay in Paris, though supported by the authorities, who send models of all unidentified prisoners there. A panorama is now added of passing events. The "future of China" is promised; the Marquess Tseng had better look sharp, or the Philistines will scale the walls.

When cheap lodging accommodation occupies so deeply the "slummers," here is a "straight tip" from Pekin. An enterprising native philanthropist has opened a casual ward of his own; price for the night, "half a farthing." The establishment consists of a large hall, the floor covered with two feet of duck's feathers. Customers make their own shake "up." Rugs were at one time supplied, till the tenants took them away as souvenirs, or converted them into jupons on the spot.

Magistrate to prisoner slightly deaf: "What brought you to the lock up?" "Two Policemen." "Now, was it not intoxication?" "Yes, 'mon juge,' they were both drunk."

Worth adopting: the Government accords New Year's gifts, in money, to the actors of the Theatre Francais, but pays the amount to each, in twelve monthly instalments.

A toper boasts, that it is easier to get into Roquette, (the prison), than into the French Academy.

Master, to his Valet who has come home tipsy, and was waiting to go to the Opera. "Francois, you have been drinking again!" Yes, sir, I met a native of my city and we had a glass." "To what city does he belong?" "Paris, Sir."

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Our Packet Edition for the French mail steamer Congo, on the 8th, will appear on Friday.

There was less about Argentine mutton in the papers yesterday, but our colleagues still cling to Carnival, and more balls are threatened for next Sunday. The disgraceful row in Calle Florida on Sunday night was a fitting termination to all the wretched tomfoolery. Eight hundred ruffians of high and low degree collected in front of the Aguila Confiteria and assaulted the passers-by in the Coreo, flinging flour bags, empty 'pomos', and all kinds of missiles at them, howling the while like all the beasts of the field. The police did nothing till Commissary Suffern appeared and stopped the row. A more harmless and laughable incident occurred at one of the Clubs where a fashionable member let fall an enormous 'bomba' of water on the hat of a 'masher' standing under the balcony. The way that hat was mashed and the wearer drenched kept the whole square laughing for an hour after.

The returns of the British Hospital for February show 43 in the house on the 1st, 64 admitted, 57 discharged, 3 dead, and 47 remaining on the 1st inst.

The telegraph reports an attempt in Rosario to murder Mr Casado, the most enterprising man in Santa Fe. A peon whom he had dismissed from his railway was the criminal, and he would have skivered Mr. C. with a carving knife but for a plucky grocer, who seized the fellow's arm at the right moment and held him while his intended victim ran for it. The grocer then hauled the fellow to the police office. Bravo!

President Roca is expected back from Cordoba in a few days.

The trial of Electric Light at Sommer's hat-shop on Monday night was a big success, and Mr Travers, the agent, intends to try it also in the cigar-shop at the corner of Florida and Rivadavia with the same motor, a gas engine. The experiment will last for a fortnight.

The details of the defeat of Baker Pasha prove once again that there is no fight in Egyptian troops. Baker would not have risked a battle, but for peremptory orders from Cairo. He had 4000 men, 4 Krupps and two Gatlings, and he lost half his men and all these guns. But for Admiral Hewett being near, he would probably have been in the Shades with Hicks Pasha by this time. The few Turks and Europeans in his ranks fought well, but the Egyptians ran like sheep before the furious onset of the Arabs. Eighteen officers were killed while trying to make the cowardly Egyptians face the foe.

There was an "incident" at the Central Station on Monday night owing to a fashionable "conocido" blackening the eyes of a young "Provinciano" who insulted his wife while passing her in the station. The bystanders separated the combatants and then the fashionable couple disappeared. The young man from the country went all over the station, and even into the trains, looking for his adversary, to cut his liver out, but, happily, he could not find him.

The Western Railway Board has put all its wheeziest engines and worn-out carriages on the San Nicolas branch, and there is a painful howl from travellers in that quarter. The Western, once the pride of the Plate, is now the worst managed line in the country.

The Municipal clerks have petitioned the Lord Mayor for an increase of salary. Dont they wish they may get it? Yet they certainly deserve it. Some of their salaries are barely sufficient to hold body and soul together with the weakest link.

The Fair season is at hand. That at Chascomus will open on the 1st. prox. and last for three days.

It is really most distressing and astonishing to see how easily young and old go mad in this country. The most trivial cause seems sufficient to upset reason. On Monday a little girl of eight years, of poor parents, was locked up. A fright drove her mad, and she used to bite her little brothers and sisters, try to set fire to the house etc.

The infamous attempt to upset trains on the Northern Railway, by tearing up the rails, has caused great comment and indignation. The police should leave no stone unturned to discover the perpetrators of this infamous outrage.

We have in our office a splendid sample of cotton from the Grand Chaco, kindly given us by a gentleman who pulled it himself while up there lately. Not being judges of cotton, we invite those of our subscribers who are to come and see it.

Mr Michael Martinez wants the National Government to give him a fifteen years' patent for a machine he has invented for developing schoolboy muscles. It bears the rather queer name of Rum-Rum. For developing the leg muscles there is nothing better than to run, run. It's only the difference of a letter, and costs nothing.

Governor Ortega of Mendoza is the right man in the right place. Now that the Iron Horse is within measurable distance of him, he intends going in thick and thin for European immigration, and irrigation works on a tremendous scale. To effect this the Governor will raise a loan if necessary. The local papers say that even one thousand hard working foreigners would soon triple the production of the province, which, at present, is barely able to produce enough for its own consumption.

When anyone dies they ask in France: "How old was he?" In Germany: "What complaint did he die of?" In America they say: "A good thing he is dead at last!" In Italy: "Poor fellow!" In Russia: "He doesn't need to work any more; he is well off!" In Holland they ask: "How much money has he left?" and in England: "Was he insured?"

Glorious mutton news will be found on 'Change. Private advices from London say that the Argentine mutton is better far than the Australian (Just what we said yesterday!) and all the steamers plying to the Plate will soon have the Haslam Freezer on board. Hooray for the Plate!

There was a royal shindy at the last meeting of the Bremen Exhibition Committee owing to one intellectual member proposing to buy a lot of mate cups, 'boleadoras, "bombillas" gauchos' dress, etc. etc. to send to the Show. After a furious debate the motion was carried amidst awful jeers and howls from the opposition, who hold, and perhaps rightly, that such articles will only serve to show Europeans that as yet the Plate is only thinly smeared with civilization. The Bradlaugh 'shines' in the House of Commons were nothing to this rumpus in the Bremen Exhibition Committee.

The Lord Mayor did not leave for Montevideo on Monday; but his son, Don Angel, did.

The Prensa says that a letter received here by parties in this city, and worthy of belief, announces the invasion of the Bolivian province, Lipez (almost the Argentine frontier) by some Chilian troops. The whole force however, only counted some 40 men and they were on what is known as a cattle-lifting expedition. We dont see that either an economic or civil crisis can arise therefrom.

Caligraphists or experts in handwriting sometimes fall on very appreciable blessings. In a question about the signature to the will of a lady named Faulkes the lucky dogs have sent in a bill for the modest sum of 8,000 pesos nacionales. They were seven, I mean eight. Just a round 1,000 each.

The Board of the Western Railway will christen the new Station between Pergamino and Rojas, Ortiz Basualdo, and that between Rojas and Junin, Roca.

Mr. Henry Roibar has offered to sell to the Government Marine office a steamer, suitable for the navigation of the Parana, and a 'chata'; the former for $14,350 m/n. and the latter for a trifle of 4,000 nats.

The Balvanera folk are going to have a new clock in front of their church old tower. We intend no joke when we say that the Balvanerians are far ahead of their time. The call for tenders for the execution of the work closes on the 15th.

There is a big row about the water supply in the Immigrants Hotel. One of the pipes burst and information being given to the water Board a plumber was sent to make the necessary repairs. The plumber, however, first presented his bill or rather promissary note which he said must be signed. No pay, no work. The Hotel authorities declined and he retired. The nuisance or rather abuse is now of several days standing owing to this childish dispute about the payment between the parties.

Dr. Quizarro, formerly Foreign Minister of Bolivia, arrived here yesterday on his way to Paraguay. H.E. landed in the Port Prefect's falua.

An illustrated paper will shortly be started in this city, by Sr. Moreiro, a Chilian gentleman.

The Nacional of last night had an extraordinary story of a man in black who went to the Paseo Julio on Monday, gathered a crowd of tattered vagabonds about him, treated them all to cakes, made them wash themselves in the river, gave them a clean Crimean shirt each, and finally carried off six of them in a boat to parts unknown.

No wonder the theatre people cling to masquerade balls like grim death. The Politeama netted $250,000 and the Florida Gardens $200,000 m/c during the recent season.

Did you ever notice that if you go into an office where the gove. or is at the nearest bar talking politics most of the time he isn't in bed, you will always see a framed motto hanging up over the desk—"Time is Money?"

Pildoras Holloway.

Las virtudes de esta admirable medicina son especialmente eficaces para expulsar de la Sangre toda impureza. En los casos de debilidad, ella es incomparable, al paso que cura radicalmente las Indigestiones, y los desordenes generales del Higado, del Estomago, y de los Intestinos, restableciendose, como por encanto, el vigor y la salud normal, dichas Pildoras remueven asimismo las dolencias que suelen afligir a las Mugeres al llegar estas a la edad critica.

Unguente Holloway.

Este incomparable Balsamo sana los Malos de Piernas y de Pecho, las Llagas Antiguas, y aun esas Ulceras cuyo origen no conviene mencionar en un anuncio publico. Para todas las Erupciones cutaneas no hay remedio igual al Unguente Holloway, al que millares deben la salvacion, tanto de sus Brazos y Piernas como de su existencia.

Antes de comprar, examinese con mucha cautela el Rotulo en el Bote o la Caja, para cerciorarse si esta la direccion de 533 Oxford Street, London, pues si no esta, entonces se trata de perpetrar un descarado engaño.

ANACAHUITA PECTORAL.

Universally acknowledged to be the best Pectoral known, for the immediate relief of all cases of Lung Diseases, Asthma, Croup, Sore Chest, Cough, Sore Throat, Spitting of Blood and Consumption.

Taken in conjunction with the

prepared by Lanman & Kemp, it may be said to be an infallible remedy against all affections of the Throat, Chest and Lungs.

For Sale in all Drug Stores.

THE DANGER OF DELAY. Few diseases progress so rapidly as those affecting the throat, chest and lungs, which latter are composed of the most delicate tissues in the human body. It can therefore be easily understood why it is necessary to avoid delay, the slight cold of yesterday may be the convulsive cough of to-day, which in its turn may produce the rupture of the delicate veins of the bronchial tubes to-morrow, from whence will come bleeding and despair. Knowing these facts we hasten to call the special attention of the suffering public to the great remedy for all such diseases, viz., our Pectoral of Anacahuita, a preparation purely vegetable, in its nature soothing, healing and strengthening, easily carried by the absorbments to every part of the throat, chest and lungs, it speedily effects cure even when all hope seems past. One mouthful of Lanman & Kemp's Pure Cod Liver Oil mixed with two of Pectoral is the way to obtain the best results in the shortest period of time.

Cedulas A	100
Cedulas E	88
Cedulas F	84⅜
National Bank Shares.....	125½

There was a mild reaction in the Cedula and share market, and Cedulas that yesterday evening were boomish at 88⅜ were offered after the ring to-day cash at 87½. All the good news about the Bank so current yesterday was laughed at by the bears to-day, and the mere fact that the Cedula King has stopped buying has flattened the whole market. Still there is always more doing in Cedulas than in Bank Shares; the latter ruled rather weakish, but the business done was most trifling.

The grand news of the day is that two more steamers are now on the way out from England for frozen mutton cargoes; one of these steamers is called the Zenobia and for which packet privileges were applied for to-day. We heard in one of the Banks this afternoon one of the leading men in the market state that according to the advices he held the mutton business promises to be the greatest business in the R. Plate, and in fact we reserve much of the news stirring about this splendid staple until the trade grows stronger and is more developed. It may interest many to know, however, that buyers of good camps are more numerous and offer higher prices, and no-day 300,000 ⅌ a league for several leagues of land in the Venado Tuerto adjoining Major Hinchliff's land in the Loreto was refused by the owner, who states that he will not sell under 20,000 pats per league. Lincoln sheep are also in demand, and good cattle, we have no doubt, will also improve.

Respecting what was published in the papers about the conference of the Bank Presidents called by the Minister of Hacienda we are authorized by Dr. Pacheco, President of the National Bank, to say that there is not one word of truth in the whole statement. No meeting was called by the Minister, and no such application was made at the Oficina de Cambios to exchange notes for gold, and no account current with the private banks has been closed. 'En fin', the whole thing was a bola.

The following were the sales at the ring during official hours:—

Cedulas—

For cash E 12,500 at 88

For March 31st E 195,000 at 88⅛-¼-⅜-½-⅝ to 88-⅝

For cash F 54,600 at 85-84½

Sales, 262,100

National Bank Shares—

For March 31st 400 at 125½-¾

The many friends of Mr Kleugel in the Plate will be glad to hear that he is in excellent health; his former partner is now in B. Aires, but he returns in a few months to his dear Hamburg.

Farmers and others may be interested in knowing that at the end of this month there will be a live stock fair at Chascomus; a favorable opportunity for those wanting fine rams and bulls to make their purchases.

Discount brokers report a little more money movement; the Provincial Bank yesterday gave 250,000 pats, but the Nat. Bank is very slow at present in its discounts.

We call the attention of those who believe in an coming money crisis to the splendid export of wool in the month of February, over 25,000 bales in the last fortnight of that month, and over 26,000 bales in the first fortnight of the same month; here we have over 50,000 bales of wool reported in one month, and that month February, the shortest in the whole year; why only the other day 25,000 bales for the whole month would have been considered a very good export month, but the fact is, others more than ourselves see the wondrous march of this country. Soon we shall be shipping 50,000 frozen capones per month, yet there will not be a word about the business when it comes, and we shall all have our eyes centred on the black board, gazing on the price of Cedulas and Bank Shares, when the real fortunes to be made are in fat capones and good camps. The growth of production in the Plate at present is something astonishing, and we shall most assuredly have 30,000 bales more wool this year than last.

The following sales of live stock are reported by some of our colleagues:—

1,000 cows 'al corte,' Rio Cuarto, 9 fts.

3,000 novillos, do, 12 fts.

4,000 sheep, Ayacucho, 29.

1,000 cows, 'al corte,' do, 172.

Brokers report very much doing now in sheep and cattle, and although the flocks and rodeos offered for sale are most numerous, still buyers are found for all.

Like a bombshell the news published in to-day's Standard of the successful launching of the Transandine Debentures, fell on the market. People who were all so "down in the mouth" about the new Argentine loans were put in good humour by this unexpectedly good news. The Debentures were placed at 111½ which must be accepted as a magnificent price, in view of the fact that the Buenos Aires Debenture loan, made two years ago in London, was done at par and considered at the time a very grand business. Messrs Murietta & Co. have, however, succeeded beyond our anticipations and reached 111½ premium. We hope we shall hear no more complaints about the delay caused to the works of this all important railway by the unfriendliness of the Western or Andine Railway, as such matters go back to London and prejudice the name of the country in circles where we must necessarily be very civil.

The National Minister of Hacienda has ordered the titles to be made out to the following parties for National lands:—

José Bazan, lot 21, fraction D., 8th Section.

Ricardo Gowland, lots fractions 89 and 94, 4th Section.

Enrique Helwey, lot 8, fraction D., 2nd Section.

Thomas J. Kenny, lot 24, fraction C., 10th Section.

Alberto Finck, lote 24, fraction C., 10th Section.

Young Dr. Romero, a native of Tucumar, one of the assistant secs of the [illegible] resident, was sworn in to-day a full-fledged lawyer.

An order has been sent by the mails to the American Bank Note Company for 4 millions postage stamps, and 1 million wrappers for the papers.

Verily we may call the new Capital of the Province Plata, for there is more 'plata' gone down out there than would built a railway from Bahia Blanca to Patagones. The following new payments by the Prov. Treasury have been ordered:—

Rivolta Carboni & Co., for wooden houses..... 21,105 m/n.

Committee of materials.... 2,000,000 m/c.

Director of works ..... 29,000 m/n.

Works Government House 20,000 m/n

The Toro arrived all right at Patagones and crossed the bar well. We saw an Irishman who arrived up lately from Patagones; he says he could get nothing to do down there, no start whatever, and had to come back. This is much to be regretted as Governor Winter is most anxious to get people to settle down there and offers to give them free farms; yet when people go there, they have to come back as they went. A local committee should be formed to look after new hands arriving, and give them a start. In any other country such a committee would exist, but here we are always in the negative case.

Mr. MacKinlay, the only Scotch subscriber who could give us the correct version about "Many a pickle" was welcomed on change to-day on his return from Formosa in the Grand Chaco. Mr MacKinlay laid before us a sample of cotton which he gathered there, and if our judgment can be taken as any thing, we must say that it looks the correct thing and will no doubt in the future prove a mine of wealth in the Chaco. He reports everything marching ahead in seven leagued boots, but what struck him most was the rapid development which the sugar industry is assuming. In a year or two more we will have as much sugar in this market from the Chaco as from Mendoza.

At afternoon change shares no animation for want of buyers. About 300 sold at 125 for the 31st inst. Cedulas—The Spanish broker who has been the prime mover of the rise in Series E continued buying freely at 88, but notwithstanding this there were free sellers at 87⅞ for to-morrow. Market closed sellers at 88 for the end of the month.

From the Plaza Once we have the following:—

91 waggons of produce arrived.

The arrivals to-day were:—

6,000 @ wool

2,028 sacks of wheat

207 do maize

55 bales hay

And much of other produce. Prices of produce in general continue flat, and more interest in maize.

The sales were:—

Wool—

300 @ sup., 87, Balleto

100 @ borrega, 76, do

1,000 @ good, 87, Llamazares & Benites

An evening colleague says that the Canals at La Plata will be finished within four months. At low tide there will be eight feet of water.

A former member of the Editorial 'Bus, but who declared off some time since, has declared on for the happiest event of his life, to come off on the 5th instant, to-day. Love's execution will be the picture, and Mr. Barros and the charming young widow, Mrs. Paola Florida de Ibarra, represent the chief figures. The Spanish Minister gives away the bride, and the honeymoon is to be spent in Europe. We offer our heartiest, if, unfortunately, very stereotyped, congratulations to the young couple.

Our Argentine colleagues announce a lot of fashionable marriages as arranged and shortly to take place. Amongst them is that of an English Lord who comes out to marry a fair Argentine, who won his heart when she was last in London. This is the first coronet scored by the River Plate girls, and now that they have commenced, Burke and De Brett must rub up their knowledge of Spanish genealogy, to be able to make things pleasant on each side of the family tree. Burke has always been a wonderful hand at this ticklish kind of work.

The Provincial Educational Board will move out to La Plata in the beginning of April. The Managing Committee of the Ensenada Port Work, give a grand pic-nic this week on the muddy waters of the River Plate.

There is a new circus to make its debut in the Politeama, perhaps this week. Judging by what some of our colleagues say on the subject, it will be "real jam" for some of our dilletantes that delight in seeing equestrian feats performed by prepossessing young ladies. We will see and report on it.

A floor-polisher applied for employment at a house in a fashionable quarter of Berlin. When asked if he thoroughly understood his business, he replied—"I should think I do! You need only inquire next door; they will tell you that last winter they had three legs broken in the drawing-room, and two ladies slipped and fell down the stairs, and both the drawing room floor and the staircase were polished by me."

They're a rum lot in Tucuman. What do you think they did in Carnival? Kept up the Corso every day last week, and only cried halt yesterday morning at daybreak.
